DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

[From the National Intelligencer.]

THE NEW PROJECT OF OPPRESSION—STEVENS' CONFERENCE WITH THE NEGROES.

We publish elsewhere a conference between Mr. Thaddeus Stevens and some six or seven negroes, who, accompanied by some white men, came to Washington for the purpose of consulting with the hard and blushless machinator of the revolutionary faction. He openly reiterated, for publication, his former confession of guilty and wanton blasphemy, by declaring to these negroes that the Constitution he had sworn to support, in his action as a legislator, is inadequate to authorize the legislation he advocates, and that for the purposes that he and his party have prescribed for themselves, it is necessary to violate it, to resist the law, to perjure themselves, to commit treason, and to compass revolution. None of this is more than "acting outside of the Constitution" on the floor of Congress—words which this veteran revolutionizer now repeats. Among the miasms he now revels in, one measure is for the election and admiss on into Congress of certain representatives, to be chosen at large, without apportionment based on a census, on the simple ground that there "is no time to take a census." The following clause is in the Constitution, which all but traitors believe, and even traitors, when in Congress, swear is yet in force:

"Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined," * * * *

The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such a manner as they shall by law direct."

Elsewhere it is provided that—

"No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken."

Representatives and direct taxes are made inseparable in the one clause, and in the other, one is expressly, as in the first both were, by clear implication, forbidden, except "in proportion to the census"—to be made every decade, as might be by law pointed out. But Mr. Stevens says there is "not time" to comply with the Constitution.

But there is nothing new in this part of Mr. Stevens' conference with the negroes.—It is in the disclosure of the purely farcical license with which these monstrous ordinances of outlawry were put upon the necks and ground into the faces of a helpless people by a Legislature controlled by traitors, that Mr. Stevens' present declarations are significant.

He now comes forward, as he tells the negroes, with a bill to overthow the whole reconstruction system, and substitute for it governments in the several States, consisting of these negro Conventions, with the powers now held by the military commanders, and all other powers, known or unknown among the nations and tribes of mankind. He inquires with solicitude into the extent and value of landed estates, the dispositions of the owners, etc., and insinuates, for the present, the general pillage which he proposes in the figure of a man retaking his own property from a robber. This burglar hint was too familiar to the negroes not to be taken, from the leader of a powerful party in a Christian country, occupying the place of a statesman, sworn to an honest performance of public duty, and entitled by the rules of courtesy to be classed with gentlemen. Nor was it below the unprincipled purposes of this remorseless old man to explain to these poor negroes the reasons, in effect, for sweeping aside the whole drama of military districting, etc., confessing its fraudulent character as a "reconstruction measure," and inaugurating, flat and simple, a dissolution of society in the South, in all its parts, in order to obliterate all restraint of negro riot and ruin, except what their principals and managers may impose for their own use. The President was to be removed from office during the period of operation of the infamous reconstruction measures, after which the great consummation would have been easy. The doctrine that the Government of the United States should go on outside of the Constitution could be enforced then at all points alike with the bayonet, and a negro military police could silence throughout the land any assertion of freedom. The incumbents could compel their own re-election from time to time, and as long as they could avoid a dispute among themselves, it was certain that neither hustings nor jury box in the country would dare resist the will of the cabal. But, says Mr. Stevens, the people did not understand that impeachment was not the removal of a President for crime, but was a method of effecting a change of administrative policy without waiting for an election under circumstances which gave promise of an endorsement of the Admisistration, by deposing the President himself and all his Administration, and seizing the Government. Indeed, says Mr. Stevens, crime is the very thing for which a President cannot be impeached.

Crime is no crime if it be on the right side, politically. This must be Mr. Stevens' doctrine of resistance to a lawful impeachment, for he says that to be on the wrong side politically, is the true ground of impeachment. Such appears to be the sense of what he said to these negroes about impeachment. The failure of that discloses to Mr. Stevens and his negroes and fellow-conspirators the strength of the Constitution and of the loyalty of the people, and hence the necessity of the new programme.

We, of course, know nothing of the details of the proposed new fabric of imposture. It is sufficient to know, however, that it repudiates the former and contemplates the reduction of white people in the South, to literal vagabondage. The negroes are to be empowered, through one specious indirection and another, to despoil land owners of their estates, after which to swallow up all personal property would be so easy that it need hardly be counted a separate evil. The lands, the wealth, the political franchises, the offices, including the military and the magistracy of all grades, and all official relations with other States and the General Government, being in the hands of negroes, without the possibility of local redress, or even of safe protest, no reasonable being need be told what must be the effect on that unhappy part of our own race, cradled in our own liberties, reared under our own political roof, and worshipping with us at our own political altars—shall we see them beggared, dishonored, outcast and degraded; suing for common rights at the feet of negroes; women and children, like our own, accepting justice as a favor, or submitting to wrong as a duty, at the hands of fœtid and bestial beings, the despised of all races of men under the sun? To such results tend the measures and the counsels of Mr. Stevens.

Let us see Mr. Stevens' bill. If it proposes to authorize the negroes of the South to despoil white men of their property at will; to coerce submission to a political party by the threat of impoverishment of estate; to put disabilities or restrictions upon the right of white people to peaceably assemble and petition for a redress of grievances; to confer, advise, propose, and support, peaceably, any and all measures which they may deem for the public good; to vest in the negroes of a mixed community the power of the sword—if Mr. Stevens' measures propose to work such results, they ought to be vetoed, and they ought to stay vetoed. The people have forbidden this wrong in all the methods of command which are customary under our form of government. If it is essayed by Congress, and aided by the President, him and them together must go to the wall. This people are free, and political crime has done its worst. Here let it stop. The Constitution can bear no more. It must break altogether, or it must go into effect altogether.

SAMBO—HIS RIGHTS AND HIS WRONGS—A SPECIMEN OF AFRICAN ELOQUENCE.

It having been telegraphed all over the country that one Cromwell, a negro delegate to the Louisiana Convention, had made a highly inflammatory speech in that body on the 7th instant, and that another negro had taken issue with them, we present below the speech as given by the New Orleans Times of the 8th. The subject of discussion was a resolution pending, protesting against "the slander that it was the idea of the colored people to 'Africanize the South.'" The first speech is given verbatim:

CROMWELL'S SPEECH.

Mr. President:—I hab listened to de readin ob de resolutions for de second time. Dey is genuine doctrine. I wants dis Merican people to know dat to-day my race stands out in bold and graphic relief as de stanchion dat upholds de Government of dis country. I tinks we are able to take keer ob ourselves. Ebery wind I hear rushin in de leaves proclaims that the black man who fought for the national honor am de equal ob de white. We is able to vindicate our cause. I'se not skeered. [Sensation outside the bar and excitement among the police.] This Government has carved out our future. My people has agin and agin been on de battis field and shed dere blood for it. Dey claim dere rights upon the floor and in dis country, and let me say dat we will rule de rebels—dat loyal blacks must rule dis Government. [Profound sensation in the lobbies.] De rebels who hab ruled us shan't rule no longer. Talk of a war of races—we are ready for it! We will rule until the last one of us goes down forever. We don't intend to get down on our knees and beg for our rights. Gentlemens, I ask you that you will not deprive us of our rights. This Government is pledged to maintain the rights of negroes. Gentlemens, much is said about anodder rebbelution. I say, if we cannot gain our rights, and be placed on an equality wid de whites, let it come. Let de rebbelution come. Equal rights I demand, and notin else will I have. I will die fust. I acts as a man, I feels as a man, and I asks no more than udder men, if dey possess de fine sentiments of manhood as I does. We care nothin' for Andy Johnson or any other man in dis Government. We are goin' to have our rights if it is to be obtained by rebbelution and blood. [Swaying to and fro of negroes outside the bar.] We claim from dis Convention equal liberty and equal privileges of de white man. I stand here, sir, to advocate the cause of my race—dat all de rights and privileges be enjoyed dat pertains to Andy Johnson or any odder man.—We wants all liberties, civil and religious, and den we shall have. I wants dem for the white man and de black man. Hear in dis convention dar are rebels. [Here he pointed to a representative of a New York paper, who wore gray pantaloons and the badge of Thomas' old army of the Cumberland.] Dar are secret blows agin us. Let us go into secret meetings and prepar for dem. Let dem hold dere secret meetings at the St. Charles Hotel and under hole. Let dem telegraph from de St. Charles dat I, Cromwell, will demand his rights. [Hisses.] Gentlemens, I know my rights—I demand dem. I demand dem for my race, and shall endeavor to have dem embodied in de Constitution. I demand a guaranty. Do you know what dat is? When de proper time comes, you will know what I mean by de guaranty.

BY VIRTUE OF A DEED OF TRUST executed to me, by the late Wm. F. Collins, I will sell, on Monday, the 13th day of January, 1868, to the highest bidder, at the Court House door in Warrenton, the following valuable property:

The Tract of Land on which the late Wm. F. Collins resided, at the time of his death, situated in Warren County, on the Williamsboro' Road, two (2) miles from Ridgeway Depot, on the R & G. R. R., and adjoining the lands of Jno. E. Jones, B. M. Collins and others, containing Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

The character of this institution can be no longer doubtful to those who carefully weigh its merits, and investigate its administration fairly and impartially. Had it been purely an eleemosynary institution and administered as a charity of the government, it could only have been really beneficial in those sections which had been desolated by the war. But as a protection or guardian of the negro race, it was wholly unnecessary and has worked great evil in alienating the blacks from the whites, while it has almost totally demoralized the negro labor.

The assumption that the whites were hostile to the blacks before they were free, or that they became hostile to them, because they were freed, is wholly gratuitous and unfounded. All the prejudices, hostility or bad feeling, which now exist between the two races, or which have existed, or may exist, is attributable entirely to the bad influence of Radical teaching, and to the universal impression of the blacks that the Bureau is managed entirely in their interest—to feed and clothe them when they are naked, whether their condition is the result of indolence, bad conduct or misfortune,—and to protect them and work for their advantage in all controversies between them and the whites. And this, so far as we have learned, is true, except in those few instances where the agents are not Radicals, and therefore do not carry their politics into the administration of the Bureau.

The immense expense of the continuance of an institution, which will be found, when thoroughly investigated, to accomplish ten times more of evil than good, has excited a very general anxiety among the friends of economy and reform, both North and South, to remove it. So far as the South is concerned, the advocates for its continuance are found almost entirely among its officers and agents, and those Radical politicians, in the South, who regard it as the most potent political engine they have for the promotion of Radicalism.—Many of the officers of the Bureau, we presume, would be out of business, if the institution were abolished, except those who are connected with the regular army. It is not unreasonable, therefore, that those who are making money by the operation should desire its continuance.

We, some days ago, showed, by the letter of Gen. Pope to Gen. Swayne, that Gen. Pope conceived that his position, as District Commander, committed him solely to the Radical party in administering the Reconstruction Acts. In that letter, he said to Gen. Swayne,

"I hold it of the greatest importance that the Constitution be made as soon as possible. I speak not more for the interests of Alabama than for the interests of the political party, upon whose retention of power for several years to come the success of reconstruction depends."

The Washington Evening Express, of Friday, gives us the following analysis of a letter recently written to Gen. Howard by Gen. N. A. Miles, Assistant Commissioner of the Bureau in this State. The Express is usually fair in its notices, and we presume it gives us the true substance of the letter—as follows:

"Brevet Major General Nelson A. Miles, Assistant Commissioner for North Carolina, has written a long letter to General Howard, urging the continuance of the Freedmen's Bureau till the work of reconstruction in the South is fully accomplished. He says that in his view the work that the Bureau is now doing is equal in importance to any that it has done since the close of the war. He calls attention to the state of feeling among the whites since the fall elections, and says it is one of great bitterness toward the blacks. A strong political force is organizing, he adds, to defeat any constitution that the forthcoming Convention may form, and he regards it as possible that the efforts of this organization may be successful, in which case, he says, the situation of the blacks and the Unionists will be deplorable. He argues that the Bureau is not so expensive as many persons seem to believe, and says its benefits cannot be computed in figures. He calls attention to the amount of legal business growing out of the changed status of the blacks, and states that the civil courts are mostly in the hands of those opposed to the reconstruction policy of Congress; whence he argues that if the Bureau be discontinued before restoration is an accomplished fact, great wrong and hardship will accrue to the freedmen."

We regret that we have not the letter itself to comment on, but the above is sufficient to indicate, that Gen. Miles regards the Bureau as part and parcel of the machinery of Radical reconstruction, although the Bureau is considerably older than the Radical plan, and was professedly instituted as a necessary charity in no wise connected with political affairs.

The facts, stated by Gen. Miles, must have been derived from sources unfriendly to the masses of the white people of the State.—Our information, certainly, does not warrant the charge, "that the state of feeling among the whites, since the fall elections, is one of great bitterness towards the blacks." The whites were not disappointed, in the late election, at the conrse of the blacks. They were prepared to see them led as sheep to the polls, through the machinery of the Leaguers and the Bureau. Hence, whatever feeling may have been, at first, excited towards the blacks, was soon removed by the conviction that they were really irresponsible in the matter. We know no instance in which a negro has been badly treated, because he voted the Radical ticket. Gentlemen have refused to employ men, white or black, who are members of the Leagues—a secret political organization—and this we hold to be legitimate conduct. No one can be blamed for refusing to have in his family a man who is pledged to a secret order, known to be political, when the person may be sworn to do the employer a secret injury. Such injury may not be designed, but who knows, except the member of a League!

Secondly, it is alleged that there is "a strong political force organizing, to defeat any Constitution, that the forth-coming Convention may form." It is true that the Conservatives are bent, if they can, upon defeating a Radical proscriptive Constitution, but it is not true that they are, in advance, pledged to defeat any Constitution which might be formed. We have no idea that the material of the Convention authorizes the expectation that a Constitution will be formed, under which the masses of our white people could live, and, therefore, we expect them to oppose it; but what has that to do with the continuance of the Bureau? That institution, rightly administered, is not political, and ought not, in any way, to be used to affect the political situation an iota.

The cry about the deplorable condition of the negroes and Unionists, in the event of the failure of Radical reconstruction, is all pure gammon, and is gotten up to excite Radical hostility, without a shadow of ground for it. The Conservatives have never intimated a desire to do injustice either to white or black so called Union men. The truest, most consistent Union men of the State, as a general rule, are Conservative men and those who act with them. We know no Conservative man who would injure or place under disability any man whatever, for his political predilections.

The intimation, in Gen. Miles' letter, that because our civil courts are in the hands of those opposed to Radical reconstruction, therefore, they are indisposed to do justice to the negroes or white Unionists, cannot be sustained, for one moment, by any fair investigation. The clamor of Radical presses and officials against our Courts and civil authorities is entirely baseless and unfounded, and we challenge a legitimate and open scrutiny into the facts.

TO THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES.

We beg respectfully and earnestly to appeal to the Military authorities of the State, in behalf of our people in the counties of Craven, Jones and Lenoir, who, since the termination of the war, have been subjected to the most wicked, lawless and violent outrages—murders in cold blood, and robberies, unequalled in any portion of our country. Citizens quietly at home or pursuing their lawful business are shot down, and their persons and premises robbed by lawless bands of armed negroes. Our white people are not allowed to be armed, but negroes are known to be fully armed,—and in that section of the State, these outrages have been renewed in the most aggravated manner recently. The efforts of both the military and civil officers of that section have been insufficient to suppress the disorders.

We learn from reliable sources that general uneasiness and alarm exist in those counties. White persons, who are compelled to travel the Roads, are now obliged to go in gangs for self defence. No white man can travel the roads after dark without imminent hazard of his life. Quiet families are now almost every night disturbed by these lawless bands, and the slightest resistance to their plundering is met with instant death.

We beg, especially, to call the attention of Gen. Miles, who, under Gen. Canby's late order, has been placed in command there, to the absolute necessity of immediate action, in order to the restoration of order and the suppression of crime. A good body of cavalry, commanded by a discreet and vigilant and prompt officer, is what is needed in that section at once. We have been urged to solict the efforts of Gov. Worth to bring these matters at once before the military authorities. We have no doubt he will readily do so, but the civil officers should officially appeal to him and to Gen. Canby or Gen. Miles at once.

We are no alarmists, but the state of things in that section of the State demands the immediate interference of the authorities. We are sure that we do not magnify the threatening and alarming aspect of affairs in that quarter. Everywhere else in the State, quiet reigns. Instances of outrage are immediately ferreted out and punished, but in the above named counties, especially, it is far otherwise.

HERE is the best and most sober thing that "Brick" Pomeroy has ever said. We find it in a letter written to the Southern Opinion:

"We are fighting Republicanism in the North; we ask you of the South to keep still—to endure but not endorse the power that would murder you and rob us. We have as Democrats—as people—no bitter words for the past. We are working for the future, as our forefathers did. We ask you to raise corn instead of cotton. We ask you to endure, to live poor, to support your families, to honor your dead, to obey such laws as are in force, till the coming sense of the land will do away with illegal ones and make better ones.

We ask you to raise for consumption more than for export. If you send nothing to New England except negro paupers she will soon let you alone. I would, if I had the power, blast your cotton crop for the next five years, till the hum of the cotton mills of New England had stilled, and till her voice was one of supplication for fibre to make her machinery profitable."

DRAWING THEIR PER DIEM.—Several members of the Convention waited on General Schofield yesterday morning, requesting him to issue an order to the First Auditor of the State directing him to pay them their per diem, and desiring to include the interim of their vacation. The General, in a few words, told them that while the people were so poor and had such heavy taxes to pay, and while the Treasury was so short of funds as to be barely able to pay the semi-annual interest, he did not feel at liberty to order any extraordinary sum of money to be paid from it, adding that when the question of per diem for the vacation came properly before him for his decision he would then give a definite answer. He accordingly issued an order for the Auditor to pay them up to the time of adjournment, which was done on yesterday.—Rich. Dispatch, 21st.

ULTRA-ABOLITIONISM.

Whoever else may be partially guilty, the spirit of ultra-abolitionism is more responsible, by a thousand-fold, than any other agency, for the national calamities and troubles through which we have passed, and for all the evils and disasters that now exist or that immediately threaten the country.

Before it raised its hideous crest, the feeling between the two sections of the country was fraternal and cordial. All of severity and rigor that subsequently attached to slavery, was occasioned by its mischievous and incendiary interference with an institution, which was gradually working out its destiny, and which, in all probability, would have died out, in many portions of the South, years ago by a steady process of emancipation, had it been left to itself. The debates in the Virginia Convention, and in the North Carolina Convention of 1835, furnish abundant illustration of this speculation. The persistent and fanatical assaults of the ultra abolitionists, increasing in vehemence year after year, rendered it a matter of self-preservation to throw additional and stronger guards over the institution, from time to time, and to meet every fresh effort to convert it into a fire-brand with more and more effectual and rigid precautions to prevent it. It was this evil and destructive genius of ultra-abolitionism which refused to enforce the fugitive-slave law, and which defied, by force, the Constitutional provision for the protection of property guaranteed as such by that instrument. It was it, which sent John Brown and his co-murderers on their mission of crime. It was it, in one word, which exasperated and inflamed the feeling between the North and South, until it culminated in the awful conflict which deluged the land in blood and shook the very earth to its centre.

The fiendish and insatiate demon of ultra-abolitionism did not die with the abrogation of slavery, when, one might have supposed, its aliment would have been withdrawn. The incarnation of discord and strife, it is ever restless and seeking for fresh opportunities of stirring up the elements of agitation.

The war over, and slavery abolished, such was the earnest craving for peace and quiet, on the part of the South, that society would speedily have relapsed into something like its former stability, but for the evil spirit which could only live in the midst of disorder and bad passions. Our people would have been only too glad of an opportunity to go tranquilly about the recuperation of their shattered fortunes and the building up of their waste places. Submitting, with remarkable cheerfulness, when all the circumstances are considered, to their privations and afflictions,—acquiescing promptly in the loss, at one fell swoop, of their immense property in slaves,—they only asked for rest,—for peace. But this did not suit the designs of the party, which, under another name, now wears the garb and inherits the spirit of ultra-abolitionism.

The terrible disorganization of the labor-system of the South might have been prevented, and the destitution that now prevails throughout its borders greatly ameliorated, if Radical emissaries had not tampered with the negroes, and Radical legislation had not, in bold and infamous violation of every right of the States, transferred to them those political privileges of which their former masters are deprived, so that the electoral votes of the Southern States may be cast for the Radical candidate at the next Presidential election.

If the worst fears of the friends of the white race, of civil liberty, and of Republican government, are realized, the catastrophe will be at the doors of that spirit of ultra-abolitionism which, cradled in New England puritanism, has grown to be a very giant of mischief and ruin.

THE NEW YORK World comments, in an able article, on the Republican plan of campaign. The recent action of their party leader in Congress shows that they are resolved to fight it out on their infamous negro State scheme. The resolution declaring that the House will never retrograde from its advanced position, and that no good reason exists why the reconstruction acts should be repealed, which they adopted by a strict party vote of 111 to 32, commits the Republican party to the same position it held in November: usurpation of State control of suffrage, the ballot taken from Southern whites, and given to the negro race by wholesale. The new reconstruction bill, introduced by Mr. Stevens, relating to the reconstruction of Southern territory," ("States no more! as these fifty times perjured members stultify themselves in declaring,)" which will doubtless be driven through Congress with whip and spur, not only for tifies the Republican party in all the positions of the negro State reconstruction scheme, but it goes further and does worse. It avows, as boldly and brazenly as acts can possibly do, the partisan purposes of the Republican party to carry the next Presidential election by the negro-State-vote-made sure. The negro State vote is their chief reliance. In that they do not mean to be disappointed. They are arranging to make that result a certainty, though but ten negroes in any State should vote to ratify the new constitutions, and but nine negroes vote against them—all the same under Stevens' new bill would the negro constitutions be pronounced Republican; be approved by Congress, and the hundred and ninety negroes endowed with the power to impose a President upon thirty millions of white American freemen. But they have not this power; for with this plank now spiked into the platform of the Republican party for the Presidential campaign of 1868, not Gen. Grant himself—were it possible for him so to demean himself, so to diverge from the great career which is open to him, so to blot out the memory of his own magnanimity at Appomattox Court House—not even Gen. Grant himself upon this plank could be lifted into the White House.

Congress adjourned on Friday to meet again on the 6th. of January. This will assist the country in having a merry Christmas and a happy New Year's day.

STATE NEWS.

——Hon. A. H. Stephens, ex-Vice-President of the Confederacy, passed through Wilmington, on Friday, en route for the North. It will be remembered that Mr. Stephens has been invited to deliver an address in New York on the "condition of the South." We learn, from a gentleman who conversed with Mr. S., that he is almost entirely despondent in view of the prospect before us.

——We are glad to learn that the damage recently sustained at the Factory of Mr. Battle, at Rocky Mount, will be repaired in a few days, and enable the energetic proprietor to fill the numerous daily demands made upon him.

——W. H. Oliver, Esq., has been elected to fill a vacancy in the "Board of Trustees of the Newbern Academy." Mr. O. was "turned out" by Gen. Sickles, last spring, and it is a gratifying compliment to him that nearly all of the appointees voted for him.

——Gen. Colston delivered his Lecture on the life and character of Stonewall Jackson at Goldsboro, to a crowded house, on Friday evening, and at Newbern, before the Memorial Association, on Saturday evening.

——A private letter from Newbern informs us that Mrs. Nethercutt has died of the wounds received at the hands of the negro assassins, who murdered her husband.

——We learn that Sheriff Colgrove, of Jones County, on Thursday night last, arrested a colored man named Patrick Artist, near Core Creek, on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Col. Nethercutt.

——Jas. Grimsley, of Wadesboro, for several years proprietor of the Anson Hotel, died very suddenly in that place last week. A few hours before his death, he was conversing with friends on the street.

——Thomas Tomlinson, aged sixteen years, of Wadesboro, was drowned a few days since. The Argus says:

"Young Tomlinson was returning from Stanly county, riding in a sulky, and leading a loose horse. He reached the neighborhood of the river, about noon, and learning that the river was up, he laid over until midnight, and started to cross alone. After reaching this point all is conjecture. It is supposed that having doubts of the depth of the water, he tried the ford with the loose horse, and crossed safely, and returned in a canoe for the other horse and sulky. Before crossing he had taken this horse from the sulky, and left the vehicle on the sloping side of the bank. In attempting to move it to hitch up the horse the sulky of its own weight started down hill, carrying him with it into the river, and, being of weak constitution and in very bad health, he was unable to contend against the current to reach the bank, and was drowned.

This event has cast a sad gloom over the community, awakening the liveliest sympathies for the distress of the bereaved parents."

——A bold attempt, by negroes, was made to rob Mr. Ulrich, in Newbern, on Friday night. The attempt was frustrated by the sudden appearance of Mr. U's. son.

——The Wadesboro' Argus records the following unfortunate occurrence:

"On Saturday last, a party of citizens from this county, who had been to Charlotte, crossed Lane's Creek, at Lanesboro', and turned out at the forks of the road, just this side the creek, to rest their stock and take a snack of dinner. Among them were Mr. Henry Porter and Mr. Amos H. Richardson. Between these two, while Mr. P. was putting something on the fire to cook, a playful discussion commenced, ending in anger and a fight between them, and ultimately in Mr. R. stabbing Mr. P. several times in the neighborhood of the heart. At last accounts Mr. P. was lying in a critical condition. Mr. Richardson was arrested on Saturday afternoon and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for a hearing on Monday."

——On Monday night, a man by the name of J. R. Wells, residing near Rocky Mount, was committed to Jail, in Tarboro', for killing one Joshua Roberson. The Southerner gives the following particulars:

"It seems that Wells and Roberson had been to Rocky Mount on the day of the homicide—and left there together on their way home—they were overtaken by a friend, who was driving a horse in a small wagon, and were invited to take a seat; they did so, Roberson taking a seat in front with the driver, and Wells taking one in the rear. They had not gone far before Roberson missed three plugs of tobacco from his pocket, which he had purchased that day—whereupon Roberson accused Wells of stealing the tobacco. An altercation ensued in which Roberson received from Wells a wound, inflicted by a knife, that caused his death immediately. We understand that both parties were under the influence of whisky, that bane of society which causes more trouble to individuals and to society at large, than all other causes put together."

THE VETO MESSAGE.—The President did not to-day transmit to Congress his veto message of the District of Columbia bill striking from all the laws pertaining thereto the word "white." The ten days allowed the President to send in his message expires on Monday next. According to the construction of the law, the intervening of an adjournment before the expiration of the time allowed defeats the bill—that is, if the President refuses to sign it, which he has done in this case. As a joint resolution was passed some days since by Congress to adjourn from to-day till January 6, 1868, the bill will have to be re-enacted before it can become a law.—Wash. Express, Friday.

FLORIDA.—The question of Convention has been settled in the affirmative by the small majority of two hundred and thirty-two of the registered voters. As we have received it, the vote stands thus:

For Convention	13,822
Against Convention	111
	13,933
Registered voters 27,521
Maj. of registered voters	13,701
	232

Had 233 more voters registered there would have been no Constitutional Convention in this State.—Augustine (Fla.) Examiner.

The Legislature of California has been voting for four days for a United States Senator to succeed Senator Conness. Thus far no one has been chosen.

MURDER.—The Sabbath quiet of our City was startled, on Sunday morning, by intelligence that a most atrocious murder had been committed in the Western part of the City, near the Railroad Depot, by three negroes,—two of them soldiers. The particulars, as we learn them, are as follows:

Early in the morning, it appears that Anderson Selby, the murdered man, formerly a slave of T. H. Selby, Esq., of this City, and recently a watchman in the employment of Briggs & Dodd, went to the house of a negro woman, named Harriet Ann Hill, where he was refused admittance. It is said that jealousy and ill-blood existed between Selby and the other negroes implicated on account of the woman. Shortly after leaving, Selby was set upon by Alexander Willis (negro soldier,) Anthony Jackson (also a negro soldier) and Henderson Taylor, negro. The evidence on the inquest was that Willis cut Selby in the region of the heart with a knife, seven inches long, while Taylor struck him several blows on the head with a rock,—both inflicting terrible wounds, either of which would have been fatal. Jackson was by, aiding and abetting.

The Jury, summoned by W. R. Crawford, Esq., Coroner, after a patient investigation of the facts, as disclosed by the evidence, rendered a verdict that "the deceased came to his death by blows inflicted by a knife and stones in the hands of Alexander Willis and Henderson Taylor, aided by Tony Jackson."

These three negroes have been arrested and committed to jail.

THE OLD CAPITOL AND ITS INMATES—By a lady who enjoyed the hospitalities of the government "for a season." New York: E. J. Hale & Son.—We are obliged to the enterprising publishers for a copy of this interesting book, which is gotten up in fine style. It gives what its author, a lady of culture and high social standing, saw of the rigor and cruelties practised in the "Old Capitol" Bastile. Many of the descriptions are painfully interesting,—particularly that of Mrs. Surratt, whose kind ministrations soothed the anguish of some of the poor prisoners there given up to death. The Richmond Dispatch, in noticing the work, says:

"The prisons have not been fairly opened. The Government has turned those of the poor Confederacy inside out, and Radicalism has made a great deal of capital out of the short rations of the prisoners, who lived as well as the Confederate soldiers. It would be no more than just that the Northern prisons should be ventilated in the same thorough manner. We should then have "Horror's head." It would be seen whether Southern soldiers fared much better in Northern prisons than Northern soldiers fared in Southern prisons. The North had plenty—the South was starving; and yet we conjecture there was not a great deal more of comfort in those of the North than those of the South. But the Old Capitol was distinct from all other prisons. It was the receptacle chiefly of alleged spies and disloyalists, who were arrested without accusation, and detained and treated as felons for weary months without trial. The bird's eye view of it given in this book will be read with interest."

DISTRESS IN MISSISSIPPI.—The Cincinnati Gazette has the following account of the deplorable condition of affairs in Mississippi:

"The state of things is appalling. Distress, want, and misery are even now stalking abroad. What it may come to in the dead of winter and spring God only knows. Every kind of business here is prostrated.—Planters are bankrupts by the failure of the crops, and involve the merchants who advanced for them on the strength of the growing crop. The distress here will be equal, I am afraid, to the Irish famine of 1847 and 1848. I assure you, you never saw such distressed and ruined people as the people of Mississippi, and I presume the citizens of the other cotton States are in the same condition, and I see no remedy except within the fold of the Union."

THE DEPARTURE OF MR. DAVIS FROM BALTIMORE.—Mr. Davis sailed from Baltimore for New Orleans, on Friday morning.

We take the following account of his departure from the Baltimore Gazette:

"The fact that Mr. Davis was going on the steamer was known to but few in the morning. It was his desire that no demonstration should be made, but somehow or other it became known, and two hours before the time for the sailing of the steamer, people began to gather on the wharf, and before three o'clock about three hundred persons assembled. About five minutes before three o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Davis arrived at the wharf, accompanied by a number of friends, principally ladies. As soon as Mr. D got out of the carriage the people gathered about him, but there was great delicacy on the part of the throng not to press upon him. A way was kept open by the police, and no other demonstration than a desire to see him was made until he neared the gangway. Then three hearty cheers were given, and a few extended their hands. Mr. Davis at once recognized the compliment by raising his hat, and shook the hands of as many as he could while passing up to the deck of the ship. He immediately went into the saloon, and the whistle sounded for those to go on shore who were not passengers. The ladies separated from Mr. and Mrs. Davis in the most affectionate manner. Among those who had gone to the ship to see Mr. Davis was a young girl, of apparently about sixteen years. She stood alone in the saloon until all had taken the last farewell and passed out, yet she did not move. Mr. Davis noticed that she was looking at him intently, and approaching her extended his hand. She grasped it, and throwing her arms around his neck kissed him. She then left the ship, and the moorings were cast off. Mr. and Mrs. Davis appeared on the deck, and in response to the cheers of the people he removed his hat and bowed an acknowledgement. As the steamer turned they walked to the stern, where they stood until the vessel was trimmed and steamed down the harbor. In all the demonstration there was nothing boisterous or unbecoming, but the people appeared animated by an earnest desire to pay respectful consideration to one with whom they sympathize in his troubles."

The restoration of the rebel States under this radical programme can only be maintained by a standing army; and with a standing army over the people as a fixed institution in the South, how long will it be before we are blest with the supreme authority of an army over us in the North! In these ten excluded States there was in 1860 a population of some seven million six hundred thousand whites and blacks, of which the whites held a majority of nearly a million over the blacks. But under the peculiar circumstances and antecedents of these two races in the South, if the blacks were in a majority of a million or two millions their political supremacy over the white race would be impossible without a standing army. Negro domination, if maintained in any one of those States, means a standing army and the removal of the white race born upon the soil; but negro domination, even in South Carolina, set up through the devices of universal negro suffrage and white disfranchisements, will not be tolerated by the North.—N. Y. Herald.

It the treaty between Johnston and Sherman had been approved at Washington the Southern States would have been in the Union more than two years ago; the cotton and tobacco crops would have equalized the exchanges between this country and Europe; the South would ere this have been on the high road to prosperity and wealth; and the country would have been at peace. But the malignant devil of radicalism spoiled all this fair picture, and now charges upon us the ruin which its own hands have wrought.—Richmond Dispatch.

AN ELEPHANT KILLS HIS KEEPER.—The elephant Romeo killed his keeper, William Williams, in Montgomery County, Pa., on Wednesday last. The elephant was in winter quarters. He had been in an angry mood, and was punished by Williams, who was afterwards engaged in washing his face, when he turned upon his feet and dashed him to the ground, and thrust his tusk through his body. Williams only lived an hour. He leaves a wife and no family.

We are on the eve of the anniversary of the birth of Him whose life was given to humanity, and the divine example should, at least in the Christian's heart, inspire us to act upon his sacred injunction, "to remember the poor."

The Sergeant-at Arms of the House has charged $150,000 as his fees for summoning witnesses before the Impeachment Committee!

Prayers have been ordered to be said in all the churches in Austria, until April next, for the Empress of Austria who is enciente.

Life Insurance continues to occupy the most serious consideration of the heads of families, who, by the casualties of war, short crops and short price of Cotton, have been deprived of the support they relied upon, in case of death for their dependents; and the question with them is, "Which is the OLDEST, SAFEST, LARGEST, MOST ECONOMICAL and RELIABLE COMPANY represented in North Carolina?" I unhesitatingly assure them that I have indisputable evidence that the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Co. is, without doubt, prepared to prove, from the most trustworthy and authentic official reports, that she has a larger amount of assetts than all other Companies in this State combined; that for eighteen years she has declared an average of fifty per cent dividend; for thirteen years her interest on investment has exceeded her losses; and her vast business is conducted at a much less expense.

All she makes is shared by the assured. No Stockholder receives the lion's share of the profits, and no Company pays its losses more promptly. Last year (1866) she paid to widows and orphans upwards of a Million of Dollars. Therefore, apply at once to P. F. PESCUD, Agt.,

Insurance.

We have in our Office a Chart, giving the sworn statement of a number of Life Insurance Companies, made to the Insurance Department of the State of New York, for the year ending Dec. 31st 1866," in comparing which we see that the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE is larger and far exceeds the five other Companies represented in this State—as follows: The Ætna Life, Brooklyn Equitable, Manhattan and North America. Their total Assets, combined, are $12,886,867.14; Connecticut Mutual Assets $13,316,275,97, larger by $429,408 83. Their dividends, paid to policy holders, 221,942,99; Connecticut Mutual dividends to policy holders, $531,458 00—larger by $309,515,-01. Their expenses and taxes, in 1866, $1,372,-169.55; Connecticut Mutual's $723,230,42—less by $648,939,13. Their ratio of expenses to premium and interest 20,13; Connecticut Mutual's 811,-11—less by 49,02.

One can see, at a glance, how much more it costs, in proportion, to work a small Company than a large one. Their dividends paid to Stockholders $78 762. The Connecticut Mutual's only Stockholders are its 55,000 Policy holders, and they now hold (Dec. 1867) $17,000,000 A large amount of this money is invested in real estate and State bonds, so there is NO SAFER, nor CHEAPER investment for a man to make for his family. It has become such a prosperous institution that its interest alone more than pays losses—notwithstanding the large dividends it annually returns to its Policy holders.

Another grand feature: All its policies are non-forfeitable for a stated amount; the continued Life after three payments; the ten year Life and Endowment after two payments.

We have branch offices in ten of the principal Cities and Towns in this State, where facts and statements can be had, and applications taken. The Company "employs no travelling or itinerant Agents." "The Company requires that their Agents shall thoroughly identify themselves with its interest." S. D. WAIT, Gen. Agt.

LIFE INSURANCE.

(From the Insurance Monitor and Wall street Review, New York.)

A Well-deserved Success—The Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The approaching demolition of seven buildings, consisting of that almost immemorial landmark, "Old Guerin's," the less ancient "Standinger's," and the present office-building of the American Express Company, on the Southeast corner of Broadway and Cedar street, together with three adjoining buildings on the latter street, is attributable to that modern insurance giant, the Equitable Life. These seven buildings are all to be replaced by one, six stories in height, including basement, and having a frontage of 96 feet 9 inches on Broadway, and one hundred and thirty-seven feet four inches on Cedar street. A number of the first architects in the country are engaged in perfecting plans for the structure, so as to make it in style, accommodation, and convenience, superior to any other building of the kind yet erected.

The building will, however, not only be made to accommodate the Company, but so arranged that the rental of such part as is not occupied by them will return an interest on the investment.

The magnitude and surpassing growth of the Equitable Life not only justify this solid investment, but render it both expedient and necessary. Although this Company has been only eight years in business, its policies issued during its eighth year covered an insurance amounting to over thirty-five millions of dollars. The total sum assured by it up to the present date approaches 100 000 000; its accumulations have run up to 5,000,000; its annual income to three

DAILY SENTINEL.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1867.

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS.

BY CLEMENT C. MOORE.

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds
While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads;
And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap—
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter:
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon, on the breast of the new fallen snow,
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below.
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny rein-deer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name;
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! now, Vixen!
On! Comet, on! Cupid, on! Dondor and Blixen—
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now, dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So, up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys—and St. Nicholas too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnish'd with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he look'd like a pedlar just opening his pack.
His eyes—how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a little round belly
That shook, when he laugh'd, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump; a right jolly old elf;
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye, and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle,
But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good night!"

Valuable Lands and Mills for Sale.

PURSUANT TO A DECREE OF THE COURT of Equity for Johnston County at Fall Term, 1867, I shall, on Saturday, the 18th day of January next, on the premises, proceed to sell, at public sale, that valuable property, near Boon Hill, in said County, known as consisting of fifteen hundred and ninety-five acres of Land, lying near the North Carolina Railroad, and within one and a half miles of Boon Hill Depot.

The said lands are the first quality of Cotton lands. About 300 acres are cleared, and have been in cultivation. The rest is in primitive forest, and is well timbered, although a considerable quantity of Pine Timber has been cut off.

The improvements consist of an excellent Saw Mill, with a forty-two inch circular Saw, run by a Jonvals Turbine Wheel, which, for beauty of work and quickness of cutting, is unsurpassed. There is also a tram road from the Mill to the Railroad, where there is a turnout. Also a Grist Mill, which will grind 60 bushels of corn per day. Also a Store and Office, a Blacksmith Shop, and four houses for operatives, and beautifully situated on a hill, containing eight rooms, to which are attached all necessary outhouses and Stables, with two Gardens, one of which contains one of the largest and finest Scuppernong Arbors in the State.

The water on the place is excellent, and it is one of the healthiest locations in the low country.

For the balance, bonds with approved security will be required, and the title retained until the purchase money is paid. Possession given on the first day of February, 1868.
